

Exchange Student Registration Guidelines

How registration works

- You will select the courses you'd like to enroll in and add them to your registration worksheet in your Webstac account as your first or second choice
- The exchange coordinator will review your selections before the registration date (registration takes place in April for student studying at WashU in the fall and in November for students studying in the Spring). It is likely you will get most of your first and some of your second choice classes as long as you meet the prerequisite requirements.
- It is important that you review the prerequisites and make sure you are eligible to enroll in the courses you've selected. If you add courses to your registration worksheet for which you have not taken an equivalent prerequisite for, you will not be enrolled in the course.
 - How to view prerequisites:
 - When viewing a course description at course.wustl.edu, you will click on 'details' under the course title.

- Once you've been registered in your courses, you will receive an e-mail from the exchange coordinator notifying you that you can access your final schedule via your WebStac account

Adding courses to your registration worksheet

- Select no more than 18 credits as your first choice classes
- You can select as many classes as you'd like and list them in as second choices
- Classes that have course number beginning with 5, 6 or 7 are graduate level courses, of which you are unable to register for (unless you are an ESCP student)
- If you are trying to add a course to your registration worksheet and you are receiving a message like the one below, it simply means there the lecture (section) you are trying to add also has a mandatory lab/discussion (subsection) portion of the class. You need to register for both. Once select the lecture, it will take you to another page where you can select a subsection.

Other requirements/considerations

- All J-1 students must be enrolled in at least 12 credits to maintain their immigration status. If you are not enrolled in 12 credits, you are not eligible to remain in the US
- There is a 10-day drop add/period during which time you can attend all the courses for which you're registered for and decide if you would like to drop any. Additionally, you can add courses during that time as well, if there are still seats available in the class.
- If you are on a waitlist for a course, the only way you will get into a course is if someone drops it and you are added off the top of the waitlist. You may not register for one section and attend a different one. You will not be enrolled at the end of drop/add in any other way
